Be Prepared for Election Day

There is no doubt; November 4th is going to be a busy day. The Division of Elections is planning for a high voter turnout. Voters can make the voting process go smoothly on Election Day by being prepared:

1. Find out where to go vote. If you don't know where to vote, call the polling place locator at 1-888-383-8683 (in Anchorage, 269-8683).
2. Bring a piece of identification, such as your driver's license, state ID card, voter ID card, military ID card, passport, or other current and valid photo ID to the polls. If you don't have ID, you will be required to vote a questioned ballot.
3. Be patient. The election workers will process voters through the line as quickly as possible.
4. If your name is not on the precinct register at the polling place, you may vote a questioned ballot.

In addition, the Division of Elections reminds voters who missed the 30-day registration deadline that they may still vote for President and Vice-President. Alaska has same-day registration during Presidential elections. This means, a person can register to vote in Alaska and vote for President and Vice President at the same time. For those voters who didn't get registered in time, they may vote a questioned ballot at any polling place or they may vote an absentee ballot at any absentee voting location. The information the voter provides on the outside of the ballot envelope will register or update his/her registration. Please remember to bring a piece of identification to the polls.
